

PROJECT SURODAYA

[A Home for Mentally Challenged Women]

The dawn of a new beginning is a symbol of hope. This project has been proposed for women who are categorised as Mentally Challenged or Developmentally Challenged. The purpose of such an establishment is to provide a grooming place for women who are differentially-able from the rest of the society.

The home will serve primarily as a shelter for such individuals thus providing them with basic needs and in the long run as a place where they would be able to acquire vocational and skills based training in order to facilitate a sense of accomplishment.

The centre will accommodate women who are destitute and whose families cannot afford to take care of them / support them in their mental as well as physical wellbeing.

The land for this upcoming project has already been acquired at Manjari Khurd, Taluka Haveli, and District Pune. The house proposes to accommodate a total of 50 women for the same.
